

Stephenie Rockwell

As a Program Manager at Effective Edge, I manage large scale projects, including designing frameworks, metrics and structures to ensure internal and external alignment for team and priorities. I also manage internal graphics and system administration. My 10+ years in the design and logistics field fueled both my creative and functional sides, allowing me to balance the science of communication with the art of design.

One of my unique skills is graphic recording. I have the ability to listen to what clients are really saying and capture ideas graphically to help groups see the bigger picture of where they have been and where they need to go. I am truly my happiest when I can see the light bulb appear in someone's mind.

Outside of the office, I enjoy spending time with my husband and son, traveling, and playing roulette.