

Steve Crawford

Director Sales

Over the span of his career, Steven Crawford has established a well-deserved reputation as the go-to resource for resolving the most demanding business operations challenges, achieving critical operational and financial goals. Particularly effective in leading operations struggling with tough economic, competitive and regulatory conditions – he has mastered organizational, financial and leadership skills critical to strong, integrated operational planning and management.

Steven's prior professional experience includes executive leadership roles at Sutherland Global Services, LenderLive Network, JP Morgan Chase, FirstPlus Financial, and Transamerica Financial Services. He also founded Crawford & Grey, a small business advocate and consultative firm in Denver Colorado. In 2016, Steven joined McGhee Productivity Solutions as a consultant.

Steven is an honorably discharged veteran, having served eight years in the United States